A Sunny Saturday in August saw our Eleventh Annual Farm Festival

What a fantastic day we had at our August 26th Farm Festival! Seven hundred visitors were entertained and educated by some 130 volunteers, craft demonstrators, guides, musicians and workers. Our farm site was in great shape, with only a few trails and lanes closed because of wet conditions. Just look at a few glimpses of that great day:

Opportunity

Would you like a “painless” way to support the Dreibelbis Farm Historical Society? If you live in eastern Pennsylvania, or near-by states, you could collect receipts from Redner’s Markets. The store donates 1% of those total sales to our farm museum. To participate, sign up at any Redner’s Grocery Store for a Redner’s Rewards Card and use it whenever you purchase anything at Redner’s. Save your receipts and send them to our treasurer, Nancy Dresher, at 140 Valley Rd., Hamburg, PA 19526. So far this year we’ve received $450 from Redners!

Sunday House Tours

We’ll be hosting house tours on Sunday, July 24th. This is a good opportunity for folks who can’t be with us for our Farm Festival to tour the farmhouse built by Joel & Elizabeth Dreibelbis. Parking is free. There is a $6 tour fee.

Fall Family Fun

A Saturday afternoon family-oriented fall program of “non-scary” hayrides, a bonfire, hot dogs & s’mores, pumpkin-decorating, scarecrow-stuffing, apple cider pressing, children’s activities is coming in October. More details to come!

The Historic Dreibelbis Farm is located outside of the village of Virginville along Rte. 143.
